

Abdullah alsamti

Personal Development & Quranic Values Content Creator

Saudi - Saudi Arabia

Read More

Who is Abdullah alsamti

Abdullah Mohammed Alsamti is a Saudi content creator specializing in personal development and faith-based education. His digital activity focuses on connecting Quranic values with daily life skills, targeting a youth audience seeking to balance faith with self-improvement. Alsamti delivers his content across multiple platforms with a calm and profound style. He is known for series such as "Wamahyaya" ("My Living"), broadcast on his YouTube channel, where he discusses how to live a meaningful life inspired by Quranic principles. He also leads a key initiative called "Khatwah lil-Quran" ("A Step to the Quran"), an integrated project aimed at deepening his followers' relationship with the Holy Quran through daily messages and practical reflections shared on his Telegram channel and short-form videos on Instagram and TikTok. His content is distinguished by its focus on the practical application of values, making him a resource for those seeking guidance that combines religious authenticity with the demands of modern life.

Achievements of Abdullah alsamti

Abdullah Alsamti launched the "Khatwah lil-Quran" ("A Step to the Quran") initiative, a digital platform aimed at strengthening the connection with the Holy Quran. Through his Telegram channel of the same name, he provides daily reflections and faith-based messages to help his followers understand and apply Quranic teachings in their lives in a practical and consistent manner. He established the video series "Wamahyaya" ("My Living") on YouTube, which stands out as one of his most prominent works. In this series, he addresses various self-development topics from a Quranic perspective, such as managing emotions, improving relationships, and character building. The series has successfully reached a broad audience seeking content that blends spiritual depth with personal growth.

Read More