

Abdulrahman Alshukri

Economic Analyst and Founder of Shukri Academy

Syrian - Turkey

Read More

Who is Abdulrahman Alshukri

Abdulrahman Alshukri is a Syrian economic analyst and trainer specializing in the technical analysis of financial markets. His daily analyses focus on major investment assets such as gold, oil, and key US stock indices like the NASDAQ and Dow Jones. He is the founder of "Shukri Academy for Financial Consultation," a platform based in Turkey through which he provides a range of educational and advisory services in trading and investment. Alshukri is highly active on social media platforms including YouTube, Instagram, and TikTok, where he shares his technical analysis and market forecasts with his followers. In addition to his free content, he offers paid services that include specialized training courses in technical analysis, trading signals through private Telegram channels, and investment portfolio management for clients seeking to leverage his market expertise.

Achievements of Abdulrahman Alshukri

Abdulrahman Alshukri founded "Shukri Academy for Financial Consultation," a specialized platform offering educational and advisory services for the financial markets. Through this platform, he has successfully built a community of traders and investors who rely on his daily analysis and recommendations. Alshukri provides an investment portfolio management service, overseeing client capital in the financial markets with the goal of generating returns based on his technical analysis strategies. He also manages premium Telegram groups, offering exclusive trading signals and direct market follow-ups.

Read More