

Adeeb Dasan

Jordanian Comedian, Actor, and Film Director

Jordanian - Jordan

Read More

Who is Adeeb Dasan

Adeeb Dasan is a multi-talented Jordanian artist known for his work as a comedian, content creator, actor, and director. He first gained significant popularity on social media platforms through his short, relatable comedy sketches that satirize everyday life and social situations, building a substantial online following. His career, however, extends beyond digital content into mainstream entertainment. Dasan has appeared as an actor in prominent television productions, most notably in the popular comedy series "Watan ala Watar" for its 2021 and 2022 seasons. His acting portfolio also includes theatrical work, such as his role in the Egyptian play "Jamila wa Maghawry." Demonstrating his versatility, Dasan ventured into filmmaking, writing and directing the short film "Fatah" (Girl), which explores the struggles of a young woman in a rural community. The film achieved critical acclaim, winning awards at the Amman International Film Festival and the French Film Festival. His work on the project also earned him personal recognition as an actor.

Achievements of Adeeb Dasan

His short film "Fatah" (Girl), which he wrote and directed, achieved significant success, winning awards at both the Amman International Film Festival and the French Film Festival. The film highlights the challenges a rural woman faces while pursuing her dreams. Adeeb Dasan received international recognition for his acting, winning the "Best Actor" award at the International Carnival of Films in Singapore for his role in his film "Fatah." This award underscores his talent in front of the camera as well as his directorial skills.

Read More