

Ahmed Salah Al Jarrah

Consultant Plastic Surgeon

Oman

Read More

Who is Ahmed Salah Al Jarrah

Ahmed Salah Al Jarrah is a Consultant Plastic Surgeon at Oman International Hospital and is recognized as one of the leading medical professionals in Oman and the Middle East. With over fifteen years of hands-on experience in plastic and reconstructive surgery, he has practiced in several countries, including Egypt, Kuwait, and Oman. This extensive background has established him as a specialist known for combining surgical precision with a deep understanding of patients' aesthetic needs. Ahmed Salah Al Jarrah holds a PhD in Plastic Surgery from Cairo University and a Master's degree in Surgery from Ain Shams University—two of the region's most prestigious institutions. He is an active member of the Egyptian Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons, reflecting his commitment to the highest professional standards and continuous engagement with the latest advancements in his field. He is known for delivering comprehensive surgical and aesthetic solutions, with a strong focus on patient safety and achieving natural, harmonious results. In addition to his clinical work, Ahmed Salah Al Jarrah is highly active on social media platforms, where he shares health awareness and educational content about various cosmetic procedures, making him a trusted source of information for a wide audience. His digital presence is part of his ongoing efforts to promote transparency and build trust within the community, emphasizing that cosmetic surgery decisions should be based on complete knowledge and a clear understanding of available options. He continues to provide outstanding medical care, contributing to the advancement of aesthetic healthcare standards in Oman.

Read More