Who is Budoor Albrahim

Budoor Albrahim is a renowned Saudi beauty expert and fashion influencer who rose to fame on social media thanks to her bold personality and candid opinions in the world of fashion and beauty. She holds a beauty certification from the UK and first gained recognition as a professional makeup artist, collaborating with brides and celebrities across Saudi Arabia. Budoor's popularity soared on Snapchat, where she shared detailed beauty tips and makeup tutorials, turning her account into a go-to resource for young women eager to master modern beauty techniques. Known for her striking style and fearless fashion choices, Budoor blends professional makeup showcases with glimpses into her personal life and travels. This authentic mix has earned her a loyal following, as fans feel she is a relatable friend sharing genuine advice and experiences. With millions of followers across various platforms, Budoor is now one of the most influential figures in the Gulf beauty market. She launched her own limited-edition lipstick line, which sold out within days, cementing her status as a beauty entrepreneur. Budoor is also known for her outspoken views, sometimes sparking controversy—especially when discussing her personal life and marriage expectations. Despite this, she has maintained her popularity and the unwavering support of her audience. Budoor Albrahim embodies the modern Saudi beauty expert: professional, authentic, and a true trendsetter for women across the region.
