

Dr. Abdulrazzak Salloum

Physician & Medical Content Creator

Syrian

Read More

Who is Dr.Abdulrazzak Salloum

Dr. Abdulrazzak Salloum is a prominent Syrian physician and medical content creator who has dedicated his career to simplifying health sciences and promoting medical awareness among the Arabic-speaking public via social media. He is known for his modern and direct approach to presenting information, transforming complex medical topics into short, engaging videos that have earned him a significant following on platforms like Instagram, TikTok, and YouTube. His content focuses on a diverse range of subjects relevant to his audience's daily lives, including proper nutrition tips, prevention of common diseases, explanations of various symptoms, and debunking health myths. Through his digital presence, Dr. Salloum aims to empower individuals to make better health decisions and to build a bridge of trust and knowledge between the medical profession and the community, using accessible language suitable for all age groups.

Achievements of Dr.Abdulrazzak Salloum

Dr. Abdulrazzak Salloum has successfully built a strong and influential presence as one of the most prominent medical content creators in the Arab world. By producing simplified and reliable educational content, he has effectively reached a broad audience, significantly contributing to raising public health awareness. Establishing successful communication channels across multiple platforms is a key achievement in itself, as they have become a primary source of health information for millions. He has proven his ability to adapt to the demands of modern digital media to deliver purposeful and impactful medical messages.

Read More