

DR. khaldoon Horany

Physiotherapy and Clinical Nutrition Specialist

Syrian - Egypt

Read More

Who is DR. khaldoon Horany

Dr. Khaldoon Horany is a prominent Syrian specialist in physiotherapy and clinical nutrition. He is known for integrating his expertise in treating bone and joint conditions with specialized nutrition programs to achieve comprehensive results. He began his career in Egypt, working at Al-Salam Hospital in Damietta, where he gained widespread recognition for his initiatives providing free consultations and treatments to patients in need, as well as for his regular appearances on Egyptian television channels to offer medical advice. Dr. Horany is highly active on social media platforms like YouTube and Instagram, where he shares accessible educational content on healthy lifestyles, physical therapy exercises, and dietary plans. Through his content, he aims to spread health awareness and provide reliable medical information to a broad audience. He later relocated to Dubai, where he established his private center, continuing to offer his therapeutic services and expanding his influence in the health and wellness sector in the Gulf region.

Achievements of DR. khaldoon Horany

In 2020, Dr. Khaldoon Horany received the "Creativity and Excellence Award" for Best Doctor in Physiotherapy and Slimming at the Arab Satellite Channels Festival held in Egypt. This award recognized his outstanding professional efforts and his impactful media presence in promoting health awareness. During his time in Egypt, Dr. Horany became known for his humanitarian initiatives, launching a campaign to provide free medical treatment and consultations to patients unable to afford care. This initiative helped solidify his reputation as a physician who combines professional excellence with social responsibility.

Read More