

Dr. Saad Ai

AI & Business Automation Expert

Egyptian - Egypt

Read More

Who is Dr. Saad Ai

Saad El-Swaissy, widely known as "Dr. Saad," is an Egyptian expert and the founder of the "Dr. Saad AI" platform, which specializes in artificial intelligence and automation education. Although his academic background is in Pharmacy, holding a bachelor's degree from Cairo University, his passion for technology led him to specialize in digital marketing before fully dedicating his efforts to AI applications. In March 2022, he launched his educational platform with the mission to empower individuals and companies in the Arab world to leverage modern technology tools for increased productivity and time savings. Dr. Saad provides practical, Arabic-language educational content across multiple channels, including YouTube, Instagram, and TikTok. His content focuses on detailed tutorials for various AI tools, demonstrating their use in tasks such as content creation, marketing campaign management, and automating repetitive workflows. He has cultivated a large following of professionals and entrepreneurs who seek to develop their skills and keep pace with rapid technological advancements.

Achievements of Dr. Saad Ai

In 2022, Saad El-Swaissy founded the "Dr. Saad AI" platform, which quickly became a leading educational resource in the Arab region for those interested in practical AI applications. Through this platform, he successfully built a strong online community focused on sharing knowledge and expertise in the tech field. He has developed and delivered numerous specialized training courses and workshops aimed at teaching advanced applications of artificial intelligence in a business context. These programs have helped a significant number of professionals and companies adopt automation solutions to improve their operational efficiency, saving both time and effort.

Read More