Who is Dr.Sakr Habouch

Dr. Sakr Habouch is a Syrian specialist ENT surgeon renowned as a leading international expert in rhinoplasty and nasal reconstructive surgery, with a distinguished career spanning over 33 years. He is particularly acclaimed for his mastery of the closed rhinoplasty technique, which avoids external incisions, a skill honed by training with global pioneers in the field. His academic journey began with a Master's Degree in ENT/Head & Neck Surgery from Damascus University Hospital in 1990. He then moved to France, where he spent seven years (1991-1998) as an associated specialist at the General Hospital of Blois, training in rhinoplasty and Functional Endoscopic Sinus Surgery (FESS). During his time in France, he also earned a university diploma (DU) in ENT Imaging from Paris-Sud University and trained in Facial and Neck Surgery at the prestigious Pitié-Salpêtrière Hospital in Paris. In 1998, he established his private practice in Homs, Syria. Later, in 2016, he joined Aesthetics International in Dubai as a specialist surgeon and Medical Director. Since 2022, Dr. Habouch has been operating as a visiting consultant surgeon at various hospitals and aesthetic centers in Istanbul (Turkey), and Damascus and Tartous (Syria), with Istanbul serving as his primary base of operations.

Achievements of Dr.Sakr Habouch

Dr. Habouch trained under Professor Guy Jost, a leading pioneer of closed rhinoplasty in France. He spent three years (1994-1997) in direct training with Pr. Jost, an experience that significantly refined his expertise in this precise technique. This mentorship enabled him to handle a wide array of complex cases across various ethnicities, including European, Middle Eastern, African, and Arab noses. Continuously seeking to master advanced methods, Dr. Habouch traveled to Tehran between 2008 and 2009 to train with prominent Iranian surgeons like Dr. Abbas Zadeh, who is renowned for his extensive experience in rhinoplasty. This period of focused training added a new dimension to his surgical skills. Starting in 2016, Dr. Habouch served as the Medical Director and specialist rhinoplasty surgeon at the prestigious Aesthetics International clinic in Dubai. He has also made numerous media appearances, including on the "Mazayoon" program on Sama Dubai TV, to discuss the latest advancements in the field of rhinoplasty.
