

Dr. Sarah Allasasmeh

Obstetrics, Gynecology & Infertility Specialist, and Reproductive Health Educator

Jordanian - Jordan

Read More

Who is Dr. Sarah Allasasmeh

Dr. Sarah Allasasmeh is a Jordanian specialist in Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Infertility, distinguished by her integration of advanced clinical expertise with digital health education. She established her private clinic in Bayader Wadi Al-Seer, Amman, where she provides a comprehensive range of services, including prenatal care, treatment for infertility and delayed conception, gynecological surgeries, and a specialization in cosmetic gynecology. Dr. Allasasmeh is highly active on social media platforms like Instagram, TikTok, and YouTube. She creates accessible and reliable educational content on women's health, pregnancy stages, and childbirth. Through her videos and advice, she aims to empower women with the necessary knowledge to make informed health decisions. This role as a digital health educator has established her as an influential and trusted figure for thousands of followers in Jordan and the Arab world. Prior to founding her clinic, she gained extensive practical experience working in several Jordanian Ministry of Health hospitals, most notably as a specialist at Prince Hamzah Hospital, a center known for handling complex gynecological cases. Dr. Allasasmeh is a member of the Jordanian Society of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists and is committed to applying the latest international protocols and standards in her patient care.

Achievements of Dr. Sarah Allasasmeh

Dr. Sarah Allasasmeh holds the Jordanian Board Certification in Obstetrics and Gynecology, reflecting her commitment to the highest standards of medical practice in Jordan. This certification requires the completion of a rigorous training program and comprehensive examinations to ensure clinical proficiency. In addition to her local board certification, Dr. Allasasmeh has earned the British Fellowship in Obstetrics and Gynecology (MRCOG), signifying international recognition of her expertise and alignment with global medical practices. She also holds an American Diploma in Aesthetic Gynecology, a specialized field that enhances her range of patient services. Dr. Allasasmeh has successfully built a strong and influential presence as a digital health educator. Through her online platforms, branded "Pregnant by Heart," she provides simplified scientific content that has significantly raised health awareness among a wide audience of women on issues of pregnancy, childbirth, and reproductive health.

Read More