Who is Farah Abdulhamed

Farah Abdulhamed is an Emirati media personality and strategic communications consultant with extensive experience in television presenting and moderating major events. She began her media career at a young age, hosting children's programs and competitions at renowned events like the Dubai Shopping Festival and Dubai Summer Surprises between 2000 and 2006. Farah honed her talents with a formal education, graduating with distinction from the Mohammed Bin Rashid School for Communication. Her professional journey began as a news anchor and program presenter at DM TV. She later joined Al Sharqiya Channel as a program producer and the main economic news anchor, where she conducted interviews with prominent ministerial and diplomatic figures. She also spent four years with MBC Group's Panorama FM radio station. Beyond her television work, Farah has established herself as a professional Master of Ceremonies and Media Director for numerous prestigious international events in the UAE, including the Sharjah World Music Festival. She is known for her active support of humanitarian and community initiatives, with a particular focus on youth and women's empowerment. She notably participated in the #OurLifeInTheUAE campaign, launched by the Ministry of Tolerance and Coexistence, sharing her inspiring story and experiences in the nation.

Achievements of Farah Abdulhamed

Farah Abdulhamed was honored by Sheikh Juma bin Maktoum bin Juma Al Maktoum at the Rashid Centre for People of Determination in Dubai. This recognition celebrated her role as a key media supporter of the center and acknowledged her significant contributions to humanitarian and community work across the UAE.
