

Hanan Marwan

Content Creator & Social Media Personality

1975 - Moroccan - United Arab Emirates

Read More

Who is Hanan Marwan

Hanan Marwan, whose real name is Fadila, is a Syrian content creator and social media personality based in the United Arab Emirates. She initially gained prominence as the mother of the famous YouTuber Ghaith Marwan. Encouraged by her son, she entered the world of content creation and quickly established her own distinct identity and a significant following. Although she is not Ghaith's biological mother, she raised him from a young age and has always considered him her son, a fact she has shared transparently with her audience, earning widespread respect. Hanan's content focuses on lifestyle, her family life with her children Ghaith, Lama, and Taim, and conveying positive, inspirational messages. She is known for her authentic and candid personality, emphasizing that she is the same person on and off social media. She also uses her platform to support small businesses and young women starting their careers. Hanan has become a familiar face at major media events in Dubai, frequently appearing in interviews to discuss her journey into the public eye and her close-knit family relationships.

Achievements of Hanan Marwan

In an exclusive interview, Hanan Marwan revealed that her real name is Fadila and that "Hanan Marwan" is a public name she adopted from her husband's family. This courageous and transparent revelation of her true identity was highly appreciated by her audience, reinforcing her image as a genuine and authentic personality. She has successfully built an independent and influential career in content creation, moving beyond her initial fame as Ghaith Marwan's mother. She has become an influencer in her own right, known for her positive, family-oriented content and her participation in major media events like the 1 Billion Followers Summit in Dubai. Hanan is known for her strong and supportive relationship with her children, especially Ghaith, whom she calls "the son of her heart and soul" despite not being his biological mother. This unique model of non-biological motherhood and deep affection has made her an inspiration to many followers, presenting a powerful story of family bonds that transcend blood ties.

Read More