

Hussien Alwaziry

Egyptian Media Personality and Podcaster

Egyptian - United Arab Emirates

Read More

Who is Hussien Alwaziry

Hussien Alwaziry is an Egyptian media personality and entrepreneur based in the United Arab Emirates, known for his insightful dialogue and impactful social content. Alwaziry began his career in acting, participating in several artistic works and commercials before relocating to the UAE to establish his own private company. After a period away from the spotlight, he made a strong return to the world of digital media and content creation. He earned the nickname "Minister of Happiness" from his followers after the success of his street interviews and social sketches filmed in his hometown of Alexandria, which garnered widespread attention. Alwaziry now focuses on his flagship program, "Podcast with Hussien Alwaziry," where he hosts a variety of prominent figures in fields such as medicine, religion, and social sciences. Notable guests have included esteemed professionals like Dr. Hossam Mowafy and Dr. Nevin Mokhtar. The podcast is celebrated for its sophisticated and in-depth discussions on social, cultural, and religious issues, attracting a large audience seeking meaningful content.

Achievements of Hussien Alwaziry

Hussien Alwaziry earned the title "Minister of Happiness" for his positive social content, creating viral videos and candid street interviews in Egypt that garnered millions of views and resonated deeply with a wide audience. He successfully founded and launched his digital talk show, "Podcast with Hussien Alwaziry," hosting respected and influential figures from across the Arab world. The podcast has become a leading platform in its category, distinguished by its ability to tackle sensitive and significant topics with profound depth.

Read More