

Laura Alsabban

TV Presenter and Brand Ambassador

Syrian - Turkey

Read More

Who is Laura Alsabban

Laura Alsabban is a Syrian media personality and TV presenter based in Istanbul, Turkey. She has built a distinguished career in visual media, currently serving as a TV Presenter for Al Ghad TV since November 2022. Prior to joining Al Ghad, Alsabban was a presenter at Orient News for four years, from October 2018 to November 2022, where she gained extensive experience in news and program hosting. In addition to her media career, Laura is a prominent social media influencer, focusing on fashion, beauty, and lifestyle content. She leverages her platform to share her personal experiences living in Turkey, offering travel tips and insights to her audience. This strong digital presence has also enabled her to work as a brand ambassador, collaborating with international brands by combining her media expertise with her passion for fashion and beauty.

Achievements of Laura Alsabban

Laura Alsabban has worked as a presenter for two prominent news channels. She spent four years honing her broadcasting skills at Orient News before advancing her career by moving to her current role as a TV Presenter at Al Ghad TV, marking a significant step in her professional journey. She has successfully built a strong presence on social media, which has led to opportunities as a brand ambassador for reputable brands. Through her content focusing on tourism in Turkey, fashion, and beauty, she has cultivated a substantial following and turned her passions into professional partnerships.

Read More