

Medhat Mohammad

Founder of Travelunteer & Voluntary Travel Expert

Egyptian - Egypt

Read More

Who is Medhat Mohammad

Medhat Mohammad is an Egyptian entrepreneur and content creator, renowned as the founder of "Travelunteer," a platform dedicated to promoting the culture of "traveling through volunteering." Medhat focuses on empowering Arab youth to explore the world on a minimal budget, offering a practical model that proves travel is not exclusive to the wealthy. Through his platform, he provides training courses and consultations to help travelers find volunteering opportunities worldwide that offer free accommodation, food, and transportation in exchange for their skills or time. Medhat began his journey with a passion for exploring different cultures but faced the common obstacle of a limited budget. This led him to discover the world of volunteer travel, which transformed him from a mere tourist into a man with a mission. On his social media channels, he shares his real-life experiences from the various countries he has visited, such as Kenya, Tanzania, and Turkey. He provides inspirational advice and visually engaging content that documents his volunteer trips and interactions with local communities. Medhat aims to build a community of Arab "Travelunteers" capable of traveling with purpose, enriching their personal experiences while leaving a positive impact on the places they visit.

Achievements of Medhat Mohammad

Medhat Mohammad founded "Travelunteer.com" as the first integrated Arabic platform aimed at teaching youth how to travel the world almost for free. Through it, he offers comprehensive educational content, workshops, and personal consultations, successfully helping many young people embark on their first travelunteering experiences. He has built an influential presence on social media platforms like Instagram, TikTok, and YouTube, where he shares his inspiring stories and experiences. Medhat has become a trusted reference in the field of budget and volunteer travel in the Arab world, inspiring his followers by documenting his journeys that show how one can explore the world and contribute to local communities simultaneously.

Read More