

Mohamed Farg

Travel Content Creator & Budget Travel Expert

1998 - Egyptian - Egypt

Read More

Who is Mohamed Farg

Mohamed Farag is an Egyptian travel content creator and vlogger renowned for his passion for exploring the world and promoting the culture of budget-friendly travel. Born in 1998, he studied at the Faculty of Commerce before dedicating himself to building his brand, "Travel with Farg," across various social media platforms. His content primarily focuses on providing practical tips and guides on how to visit diverse global destinations, such as Switzerland, China, and the USA, on a limited budget. Beyond content creation, Mohamed Farag is an entrepreneur and the founder of the digital marketing agency "Viral Advertising." He leverages his marketing expertise and love for travel to produce engaging and informative content for his audience. His videos and posts offer detailed insights into visa processes, booking affordable flights and trains, and discovering landmarks through unconventional methods. He is married to presenter Lina El-Tahtawy, and they have a son named Farid.

Achievements of Mohamed Farg

Mohamed Farag has successfully built a prominent personal brand in the budget travel niche in Egypt and the Arab world. Through his YouTube channel and other platforms, he provides practical content that helps young people achieve their travel dreams on a limited budget, documenting his journeys to destinations like China and the United States. He founded the digital marketing agency "Viral Advertising," demonstrating his ability to turn his passion into a successful business venture. The agency leverages his content creation expertise to collaborate with various brands, combining his entrepreneurial skills with his social media influence.

Read More