Who is Mohammad Almutairi (Kwili)

Mohammad Almutairi, widely known by his online alias "Kwili," is a prominent Kuwaiti content creator, YouTuber, and author. He began his YouTube journey in August 2012, establishing a channel that has become a major destination for storytelling content in the Arab world. Kwili specializes in narrating real-life stories with a captivating style, focusing on crime, mysteries, unexplained phenomena, and disappearance cases, alongside analysis of some social and global geopolitical issues. His content is characterized by its depth and meticulous research, often presented in long-form, detailed videos accompanied by documentary materials and images to enhance authenticity. He explicitly states that his content is intended for adult audiences. Beyond his work on YouTube, Kwili has extended his influence into the literary world with his debut book, "Qisas min Wahi al-Waqi" (Stories from Real Life), which features a collection of stories consistent with his channel's themes. Kwili maintains a strong presence across various social media platforms, using them to engage with his audience and share behind-the-scenes glimpses of his work.

Achievements of Mohammad Almutairi (Kwili)

Mohammad Almutairi authored and published his first book, "Qisas min Wahi al-Waqi" (Stories from Real Life). The book compiles various stories that align with the core themes of his YouTube content, such as crime and mystery. He has participated in cultural events to promote his book, notably his appearance at the Muscat International Book Fair in 2022, which garnered significant media attention due to the large crowds he drew. Since launching his YouTube channel in 2012, Kwili has built a highly successful platform with a massive following, thanks to his distinctive style of narrating complex and mysterious stories. He produces in-depth documentary and analytical content on a variety of subjects, establishing himself as one of the most prominent digital storytellers in the Gulf region and the wider Arab world.
