

nadia al zoubi

Jordanian Media Personality & TV Host

1983-09-18 - Jordanian - Jordan

Read More

Who is nadia al zoubi

nadia al zoubi is a prominent Jordanian media personality and TV host, born on September 18, 1983. Her career in media began unexpectedly when her vocal talent was discovered at Rotana Radio, despite her academic background in modern languages (Spanish & English) from the University of Jordan. She launched her radio career with the entertainment news program "Akhir Khabar," then moved on to live shows with "Ala Eini Talabatak" on Rotana Radio. nadia al zoubi gained widespread recognition through her signature show "Sah Sah," which started on radio and later aired simultaneously on Amman TV—marking a major milestone in her career. In 2013, she co-hosted the Ramadan game show "Karkaba Fel Markaba" on Roya TV alongside her colleague Rahaf Sawalha. She also presented other notable programs on Amman TV, including "Nassi Al Thani" (2019), "Laffa" (2019-2021), and "Fahem Al Tabaq" (2023). In addition to hosting, nadia al zoubi made her acting debut in 2017 with the social comedy series "Lat Wa Ajn," expanding her influence in the entertainment industry.

Achievements of nadia al zoubi

In 2008, nadia al zoubi was ranked third as Best Radio Presenter in a poll conducted by Al-Dustour newspaper, reflecting her strong start and impact in the radio scene. She successfully ventured into acting in 2017, starring in the Jordanian comedy series "Lat Wa Ajn," which addressed women's social issues with a comedic touch—marking her first television acting experience. In 2013, she co-hosted the popular Ramadan game show "Karkaba Fel Markaba" on Roya TV with Rahaf Sawalha, which received significant audience engagement. The duo became well-known for their joint presentation of several successful programs.

Read More