

Qussai Omari

Life Coach & Expert in Laws of the Mind

Jordanian - Jordan

Read More

Who is Qussai Omari

Qussai Omari is a Jordanian life coach and content creator specializing in self-development, with a core focus on what he terms the "Laws of the Mind" and emotional intelligence. Operating under the motto "The secret starts from within," Omari has built a significant online presence, sharing content aimed at raising awareness among Arab youth and empowering them to achieve professional and personal transformation. With over a decade of experience in coaching, Omari has worked with hundreds of clients, including entrepreneurs and public figures, guiding them to unlock their most powerful selves. He delivers his services through his online platform, infgro.com, which features an exclusive, intensive "Elite Personal Coaching" program and "The Academy," an integrated development system offering specialized courses and exclusive live sessions for members. His methodology is centered on communicating with the subconscious mind and reprogramming internal beliefs to achieve tangible results in a short period.

Achievements of Qussai Omari

Qussai Omari has been featured on several prominent television programs, including an appearance on "Sabah Al Arabiya" on the Al Arabiya channel, where he discussed topics such as the reasons for unhappiness in the digital generation and offered success tips for youth. He was also featured on Jordan's "A ONE TV" in a segment on social media personalities to talk about his content creation journey. He founded the online platform infgro.com, which offers specialized coaching programs. His flagship offerings include "The Academy," an annual membership for exclusive content, and specific events like "Laws of the Mind" and "Quantum Transformation," designed to create fundamental shifts in participants' mindsets and thinking. Omari has successfully coached over 500 clients from diverse fields, including entrepreneurs and celebrities, through his personal coaching programs. These programs focus on achieving comprehensive professional, personal, and mental transformations over a defined period, typically three months.

Read More