Who is Rawan Fahmi

Rawan Fahmi is a Jordanian YouTube star and content creator, best known as one half of the highly successful channel "Rawan and Rayan," which she co-hosts with her twin sister, Rayan. Born on September 1, 2007, she is of Jordanian nationality but was born and raised in Dubai, UAE, where she currently resides. Rawan embarked on her YouTube journey in late 2015, with the first video being uploaded in September 2016, quickly rising to prominence in the Arab world. Together with her sister, Rawan produces a diverse range of content primarily aimed at a youth and family audience. Their videos typically feature challenges, pranks, vlogs, beauty and fashion tutorials, and various lifestyle content. The channel's success is largely attributed to their energetic and relatable personalities. Beyond YouTube, Rawan is an active presence on other social media platforms like Instagram and TikTok, sharing additional content from her daily life and travels. She is part of a social media-savvy family, as her other sisters, Raghad and Meera, also run popular channels.

Achievements of Rawan Fahmi

Alongside her sister Rayan, Rawan Fahmi has achieved massive success with their YouTube channel, which has garnered over 11 million subscribers and accumulated billions of total views. Several of their videos, such as "Real Food Vs Gummy Food" and the "Yoga Challenge," went viral, drawing tens of millions of views each. Expanding beyond video content, the twins ventured into music by releasing the song "Al Taw'am" in 2018, which has been viewed over 40 million times. This significant online influence has led to major brand collaborations, including partnerships with prominent international beauty brands like Sephora and Too Faced, cementing their status as leading digital influencers in the region.
