

Reem Busati

Saudi TV Presenter & Media Personality

Saudi - Saudi Arabia

Read More

Who is Reem Busati

Reem Busati is a prominent Saudi media personality whose broadcasting career began in childhood, appearing in children's programs and Ramadan specials in Medina. After an early start, she took a break from television to pursue her university studies in London and further honed her media skills through specialized courses and workshops in Egypt. Reem returned to the screen with greater impact, joining Rotana Khalijia and hosting the acclaimed social program "Sayidaty" for several seasons, where she addressed key issues affecting Arab families and society. She later became a leading face on Al Arabiya, where she currently anchors the morning show "Sabah Al Arabiya," covering a broad range of social, cultural, health, and news topics. Beyond television, Reem runs a YouTube channel documenting her media work and field coverage, including reports from the London Film Festival, showcasing her expertise as a producer and field correspondent.

Achievements of Reem Busati

Currently anchors "Sabah Al Arabiya" on Al Arabiya, one of the Arab world's leading morning shows, delivering daily coverage of topics relevant to Arab viewers. Conducted a groundbreaking live interview with her own hologram, exploring the future of media and artificial intelligence. Served as a main presenter for "Sayidaty" on Rotana Khalijia, leading 11 seasons of this influential platform for women and Saudi and Arab society, hosting prominent figures and addressing diverse social issues. Began her media journey as a child presenter on Saudi TV, including a national operetta for Saudi National Day in 1412 AH and a special Eid song, gaining early on-camera experience.

Read More