Who is Rima Al Taki

Rima Al Taki is a certified life coach and self-development expert, an influential Syrian figure residing in Jordan with a professional presence in the United Arab Emirates. She began her career as an agricultural engineer after graduating from the University of Damascus, working in the field for several years. However, her passion for self-awareness and human development led to a significant career transformation that began as early as 1995 when she was first introduced to yoga and meditation. Over the years, Rima has honed her expertise and acquired specialized credentials, most notably becoming a certified life coach through the official Tony Robbins training school. She also identifies as an advanced relationship coach, consultant, and therapist. Her content and coaching sessions focus on topics such as meditation, consciousness, healthy relationships, and self-actualization. She has appeared as an expert on various television programs and interviews, such as on Fujairah TV, to discuss concepts of true success and self-rearrangement, solidifying her status as a leading voice in her field in the Arab world.

Achievements of Rima Al Taki

Rima Al Taki earned the title of "Certified Professional Coach" from the official Tony Robbins training school, a prestigious achievement in the life coaching and personal development industry. This certification places her within a global network of coaches utilizing proven methodologies to help individuals achieve their goals. Building a strong media presence as an expert in her field, Rima Al Taki has been featured on talk shows and platforms like Fujairah TV. In these interviews, she has provided deep insights into topics such as "True Success" and "Self-Rearrangement," helping to amplify her message and impact a broader audience. She established her own coaching and consulting practice, "Rima Al Taki," in March 2016, offering services in self-development and relationships. Through this platform, she has successfully guided numerous clients to improve their lives and gain a deeper understanding of themselves, drawing on over two decades of experience in consciousness and meditation.
