Who is Yazan Abweny

Yazan Abweny is a Jordanian content creator and social media personality of Palestinian origin who has gained significant recognition by sharing his daily life and family experiences. Born in Saudi Arabia in 1988, he currently resides in Dubai, UAE, with his wife, Belarusian influencer Aliona, and their three sons: Zayan, Aylan, and Azzan. Before dedicating himself to content creation, Yazan pursued a career in his academic field, holding a Bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering and working as an engineer in several countries, including Saudi Arabia, Qatar, and Jordan. Abweny decided to leave his engineering career to focus entirely on social media. His content primarily revolves around his family life, offering insights into his experiences as a husband and father. He frequently collaborates with his wife, Aliona, and together they have become a well-known duo, sharing personal moments with their audience, including the births of their children. Yazan has been featured on various interviews and podcasts, such as the "Takhayaal Podcast," where he discussed his career transition, the challenges he faced, and his personal journey through marriage and fatherhood.

Achievements of Yazan Abweny

Yazan Abweny successfully built a new and influential career in content creation after leaving the field of civil engineering.
